John Engle. The Jack Lewis Award winner

The Jack Lewis award goes to an individual who has greatly contributed to Middlesboro's Sports programs. This year the committee would like to honor such an individual, John Engle. John began covering sports over 45 years ago. His voice could be heard on game nights on WANO, WFXV, WRIL, WMIK or Hometown TV. He announced many basketball and baseball games as well. He is the founder and owner of Pinnacle Sports View which covers all our local teams and colleges. His Pinnacle Sports View website carries all the local teams and also hosts the Middlesboro Sports Hall of Fame website. He has been the voice of the Union College Bulldog Football Network, has twice been named the Kentucky PGA Media Representative of the Year. The coaches just call him "Cawood". His dedication and time put into his broadcasting cannot be underestimated. The depth he brings to the game is amazing. His 45 years of play by play will always be cherished and admired.
